LUCAS OIL STADIUM,
INDIANAPOLIS
COLTS, COCA-COLA,
REPUBLIC SERVICES
AND THE CITY OF
INDIANAPOLIS WANT YOU TO RECYCLE INDY!

The City of Indianapolis has partnered with Lucas Oil Stadium, Indianapolis Colts, Coca-Cola and Republic Services to expand a recycling campaign for the 2011-12 season and beyond.

Fans are encouraged to place empty bottles and cans in one of over 200 recycling bins conveniently located throughout the stadium. Lucas Oil Stadium currently leads the way in recycling amongst Indianapolis' sports arenas, boasting a total of 117,260 pounds of glass, aluminum, plastic and cardboard recycled at Indianapolis Colts home games in 2010 alone!

WHY SHOULD YOU PARTICIPATE?

By recycling your empty bottles and cans instead of throwing them in the trash, you are helping Lucas Oil Stadium make a positive environmental impact, not just on our facility, but on our community. You are also helping the City of Indianapolis in its efforts to be one of the most sustainable cities in the Midwest.

So, what are you waiting for? Take your empty bottle or can with you when you leave your seat and look for one of our recycling bins. They're conveniently located around the concourse and easy to recognize. You can even recycle bottles and cans in the Lucas Oil Stadium suites.

We're RecyclingIndy. Join us.
